Topic: openBIM and its benefits to non-BIM expert

Join us for a one-hour talk on "openBIM and Its Benefits to Non-BIM Experts," where we'll demystify the world of openBIM and its value in construction and design projects. Learn what openBIM truly means—a collaborative approach using open standards like IFC to enable seamless data sharing across teams and software. We'll address common misunderstandings about IFC, uncover practical limitations, and share actionable mitigation strategies derived from real-world DEVB case studies. Designed for non-BIM experts, this session will empower you with the knowledge to leverage openBIM effectively, enhance project collaboration, and streamline workflows. Don't miss this opportunity to bridge the gap between BIM and your role!

19:00 – 19:15
